KEY DEADLINES

AS SOON AS YOU KNOW YOU WANT TO TAKE A LEAVE
• notify your supervisor about your plans
• start reviewing your options for continuing benefits during your leave
• contact your local Payroll or Benefits Office to make arrangements to pay the premiums for any benefits you decide to continue

DURING YOUR LEAVE
Soon after your last day on pay status:
• contact Fidelity Retirement Services if you have taken a loan through the Tax-Deferred 403(b) Plan and you would like to set up a repayment schedule during your leave

Within 31 days after a family member becomes eligible to enroll in a benefit plan:
• enroll your family member

Within 31 days after you leave your medical or dental plan’s service area, if applicable:
• transfer to a UC-sponsored plan in your new service area

Within 31 days after your UC-sponsored or COBRA continuation coverage ends (if applicable to you):
• apply for conversion coverage

AFTER YOUR LEAVE
Within 31 days after you return to work:
• restart any benefits you chose not to continue while on leave
• re-enroll in benefits that you did continue (at some UC locations only; please check with your Benefits Office)
• contact your Payroll Office to resume payroll deductions for any 403(b) loan repayments

Within 31 days after you return to your medical or dental plan’s service area:
• check with your Benefits Office regarding enrollment options

Within 60 days from the date you lose medical, dental and vision coverage by reason of a qualifying event, or the date you receive notice of your continuation rights, whichever is later:
• elect COBRA if you want to continue your benefits

Within 120 days after your separation from UC employment (if you separate while on leave):
• retire, if you are eligible and want to continue benefits coverage as a retiree
Life happens, and UC understands that. That’s why one of your benefits is the option to take a leave without pay. You may find, for instance, that you’d like to extend your maternity or bereavement leave, or accompany your partner on an overseas work assignment.

If your need for unpaid leave arises because of a family or medical event, or because of disability, pregnancy, military service, a furlough or a temporary layoff, please see the specific fact sheets that cover these types of leave, which you’ll find on ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/compensation-and-benefits/roadmaps/loa.html. And if you think there’s a chance you may end UC employment during or after your leave, be sure to review the Termination of Employment Fact Sheet at ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/forms/pdf/termination-of-employment.pdf.

Before you decide to take unpaid leave, note that UC offers an option that may help you extend any paid leave for which you’re eligible. You can learn more about the Catastrophic Leave Donation Program in the “Leaves of Absence” policy document on UCnet (ucal.us/staffleave).

This fact sheet outlines the leave without pay benefit, how to arrange for a leave, and what you need to do to continue certain benefits during your leave. It also explains additional options for continuing benefits under COBRA, how to make the transition back to regular benefits when you return, and what to do if you don’t return.

HOW TO ARRANGE FOR A LEAVE

Contact your supervisor and your local Benefits or Payroll Office as soon as the need for a leave arises.

During your leave, you may be eligible to continue many of your UC benefits—some for the same cost to you as during regular employment, and some at additional cost. For certain benefits, including medical and dental, you will need to pay the full premium (both your portion and UC’s). And you’ll need to make arrangements for those payments before you begin your leave. You can continue coverage for your dependents as well as yourself, as during regular employment.

IF YOU ARE A FACULTY MEMBER

Faculty members may want to consider the following:

- You may also be granted a leave without pay “for other good cause”—see the Academic Personnel Manual for details: ucop.edu/academic-personnel/_files/apm/apm-759.pdf.
- Many faculty members are paid over 12 months for work over the academic year, with some payments in advance of time worked. If you begin an unpaid leave between August and December, you may be required to return pay for any period for which you received advance payments.

Got questions?

If you still have questions after reviewing the information here, check out UCnet (ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu). You’ll find general information, UC publications and forms, and details on benefit plans; UC staff policy on leaves is at ucal.us/staffleave.

To review the specific benefits you’re enrolled in, go to UCnet and select “AYS Online,” log on, and then choose “Current Enrollments” under the “Health and Welfare” option. You can also contact your local Benefits Office for help.
Your Benefits: What You Need to Know

Once you've decided you want to take a leave, you'll have lots of choices for continuing your benefits. You'll need to start sorting through your options, assessing the costs, and getting the process under way as soon as possible. The information below summarizes the benefits you may and may not continue, their costs, and what you'll need to do to continue and/or restart them.

If you decide not to continue your benefits during your leave, your coverage will end on the last day of the month for which your premiums or contributions have been paid. You won't accrue vacation or sick leave while on leave. (For additional details, see the personnel policy or collective bargaining agreement that applies to you.)

Continuing Your Benefits: What You Need to Do

FOR MEDICAL, DENTAL, VISION, LEGAL, ACCIDENTAL
DEATH AND DISMEMBERMENT AND SUPPLEMENTAL LIFE

Most important: Contact your local Payroll or Benefits Office to make advance arrangements to pay your monthly premiums, as well as UC’s portion, during your leave. You should do this as soon as you know you want to take a leave.

To enroll a family member during your leave, contact your Payroll or Benefits Office within 31 days of the date the person becomes eligible to enroll. You'll be required to provide documents to verify your family members’ eligibility. (To learn about other opportunities to enroll in UC-sponsored plans, see A Complete Guide to Your UC Health Benefits, available at ucal.us/healthguide) And, if a family member loses eligibility for benefits during your leave, you’re responsible for getting in touch with your local Benefits Office to de-enroll that person. If you don’t do this, you or your family member may be liable for any expenses that aren’t covered.

Moving during your leave? If you’ll be away more than two months, and you’d like to transfer to a UC-sponsored medical or dental plan in your new location, contact your local Benefits Office. You’ll need to transfer within 31 days of the date you leave the original service area. And check with your medical and dental plan carrier about whether you, and/or eligible family members, need to select a new primary care physician or dentist.

Also, be sure to let UC know your current address. If your health plan covers only a certain service area, a change in your permanent address could affect your eligibility. So be sure to keep UC posted on your correct address: Update it on UCnet by selecting AYS Online, or let your local Benefits Office know of any changes.

Tip: Remember that when you’re making changes to your benefits, it’s your responsibility to meet UC’s deadlines. Be sure to leave yourself enough time to do this.

MORE OPTIONS FOR CONTINUING YOUR BENEFITS

COBRA AND CALCOBRA

You probably know about COBRA as a way to continue health coverage after you’ve left an employer. If you and/or eligible family members are enrolled in medical, wellness, dental or vision, you have the option to continue your UC-sponsored coverage, as well as eligibility for your location’s Employee Assistance Program, for 18 months under COBRA during your leave. After that, you and/or your eligible family members may be able to extend your UC-sponsored medical coverage for an additional 18 months under CalCOBRA.

Most people choose not to go this route because it tends to be more expensive. (Note also that your COBRA continuation period runs at the same time as any continuation provisions under UC’s Group Insurance Regulations, except for Family and Medical Leave Act provisions. In other words, it does not extend the length of time you may continue benefits while on leave.)

Deadlines: If you want to continue benefits via COBRA, you need to apply no later than 60 days from the date you lose coverage by reason of a qualifying event, or 60 days from the date you receive notice of your continuation rights—whichever is later. Talk with your local Benefits Office about how to apply, or go to ucal.us/COBRA.

CONVERTING TO AN INDIVIDUAL POLICY
For certain plans—Medical, Legal, Basic Life, Supplemental Life, Basic Dependent Life, Expanded Dependent Life, and Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D)—you may be able to convert your UC- or COBRA-sponsored coverage to an individual policy. Note that converting to an individual policy may provide you with fewer benefits than you’d have by continuing coverage through UC.

Deadlines: For medical coverage, you need to apply for conversion no later than 31 days after your UC-sponsored or COBRA continuation coverage ends.

For the other benefits, you must apply within 31 days after your UC-sponsored coverage ends. (This assumes your coverage has been continuous; if you no longer have coverage, then you’re not eligible to convert to an individual policy.)

To learn about applying for conversion coverage, see ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu. You’ll also find information there about applying for Life and AD&D coverage.

MAKING YOUR LIFE INSURANCE PORTABLE
If you’re enrolled in Supplemental Life insurance, you may be eligible for the Prudential Portability benefit. This allows you to buy a Prudential term-life policy for amounts similar to what you carry in Supplemental Life, Basic Dependent Life, or Expanded Dependent Life.

Deadline: You’ll need to apply for the portability benefit within 31 days after your Supplemental Life insurance ends. For details about how to apply, see the Life Insurance plan material on ucal.us/lifeinsurance.

What is a PIE?
Your PIE is the time during which you (and/or eligible family members) are allowed to enroll in UC-sponsored benefit plans. After a leave without pay, your PIE starts the first day of eligibility (for example, the day you return to work or pay status). It ends 31 days later, or, if the 31st day falls on a weekend, on the next working day. UC defines a working day as a normal business day (Monday through Friday, excluding holidays) for your local Benefits or Payroll Office.

UCRP, CAP AND SERVICE CREDIT
During your leave, your University of California Retirement Plan (UCRP) contributions and any Capital Accumulation Payment (CAP) balance you have will remain on deposit. You don’t have the option to withdraw them, and you don’t earn UCRP service credit. (You may be able to establish service credit for this period when you return; see “Service Credit Buybacks” on page 8.) And you’ll still be eligible for any UCRP benefits that you were eligible for when your leave began.

RETIREMENT SAVINGS PROGRAM
Contributions to the Retirement Savings Program (the Defined Contribution Plan, Tax-Deferred 403(b) Plan and the 457(b) Deferred Compensation Plan) stop with your last paycheck.

Once you return to pay status, your retirement plan contributions and retirement savings deductions will start up again automatically (although you may always change any voluntary salary contributions).

403(B) LOANS
If you have taken a loan through the Tax Deferred 403(b) Plan, you may set up one of the following payment options within 90 days of your last day on pay status:

- Make monthly payments
- Make a full payment covering the period you’ll be off pay status
- Repay the total outstanding amount of the loan before you go off pay status.

Important: You may suspend 403(b) loan payments for up to 12 months during your leave without pay (24 months if you’re on military leave). When you return to work, you’ll need to resume payments. Depending on the terms of your loan, your payment amount may change, as you may need to repay the same amount over a shorter timeframe.

For details on how to arrange repayment or suspend payment, contact Fidelity Retirement Services at ucfocusonyourfuture.com or 866-682-7787 as soon as possible.
Your Benefits after Your Leave Ends: What You Need to Know

Social Security
Neither you nor UC contributes to Social Security while you’re on leave without pay. If you’re a member of any other retirement plan, such as CalPERS, contact that plan directly for information.

Service Credit Purchases and Buybacks
At some locations, deductions for a 403(b) Plan loan or a UCRP service credit purchase or buyback in progress also restart automatically. At others, though, you’ll need to contact your local Payroll Office to get them started again.

If you owe additional interest on a purchase or buyback-in-progress for the period of your leave, UC will add it to your outstanding balance. Your monthly payroll deductions won’t go up; instead, the payment period will be extended.

You might want to consider purchasing retirement service credit for the time you were on leave. Generally, the cost of a leave purchase or buyback depends on when the leave occurred, its length, your age and how long you wait to elect the purchase or buyback. The sooner you start this process, the less it will cost you. (For more details about service credit purchases and buybacks, check with your Benefits Office or see the UCRP Buyback Booklet, which is available on UCnet at ucal.us/Buybackbooklet.)

Scholarshare
Deductions stop with your last paycheck. Go to Scholarshare.com or call 800-544-5248 to learn more about your options.

Your Benefits after Your Leave Ends: What You Need to Know

If you return to work in a new appointment, that appointment will determine the benefits for which you are eligible. Contact your local Benefits Office for details.

For benefits you decided to continue during your leave— including medical, dental, legal, vision, basic dependent life, supplemental life, expanded dependent life and accidental death and dismemberment—your coverage continues once you return to work.

At some UC locations, you’ll need to re-enroll for coverage when you return to work—even if it’s coverage that you continued during your leave. (See “Restarting Your Benefits: What You Need to Do,” on page 9, for details about how to re-enroll if you need to.)

For benefits that continued automatically, or that you didn’t have the option to continue during your leave, your coverage resumes the first day you’re actively at work.

For benefits that you chose not to continue during your leave, there’s a deadline for starting them up again: generally, within 31 days of your return to work, based on your Period of Initial Eligibility (PIE). The specifics of re-enrollment vary depending on the length of your leave:

- If your leave was less than 120 days, you (and eligible family members) may re-enroll in the same plans, with the same level of coverage as before you left. You may add family members who became eligible during your leave. But even though you’re just starting the same coverage as you had before, you still must enroll within your PIE. Exception: If you return in a new plan year, you’ll be treated as a newly eligible employee, as described below.

- If your leave was 120 days or more, you’ll be treated as a newly eligible employee. You (and eligible family members) may enroll in any UC-sponsored plans for which you’re eligible, but you’ll need to do so within your PIE. If you miss the PIE window for enrollment, some benefit plans allow you to enroll during Open Enrollment, usually in November. For other plans, though, you may be required to submit a statement of health to the insurance company, with no guarantee that you’ll be accepted. That’s why it’s best to sign up during your PIE.

Tip:
If you don’t return to UC employment because you decide to retire, you must retire within 120 days of your separation from UC if you are eligible and want to continue your medical, dental, vision or legal coverage as a retiree.
Restarting Your Benefits: What You Need to Do

ALL BENEFITS
It’s best to contact your local Benefits Office as soon as you return to work. At a minimum, you’ll need to review your benefits within 31 days after you return to work. When you return, you’ll need to fill out a form called UPAY 850 (available at ucal.us/UPAY850) in order to restart your benefits.

Even if your location and your situation don’t require you to re-enroll in your benefits, you might want to fill out the form to do so anyway. It can be time-consuming, but it helps to ensure that nothing falls through the cracks. Talk with your local Benefits Office about this option.

VOLUNTARY DISABILITY
You’ll need to re-enroll during your Period of Initial Enrollment (PIE). If your leave is less than 120 days, you may re-enroll in the Voluntary Disability Plan(s) you had before your leave. If your leave is 120 days or longer, you may select Voluntary Short-Term Disability, Long-Term Disability or both.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH AND DISMEMBERMENT
You may enroll at any time. Your coverage will begin the day that your local Benefits Office or Payroll Office receives your UPAY 850 form.

IF YOU’VE MOVED DURING YOUR LEAVE
If you have been out of your medical or dental plan’s service area during your leave, you may transfer back to your previous plan within 31 days of your return to the area. You (and/or your eligible family members) might also need to select a primary care physician or dentist. To transfer plans, get in touch with your local Benefits Office. To change providers, contact your medical carrier or dental carrier.

DEPCARE, HEALTH FSA AND TIP
During your new PIE, you may re-enroll in DepCare and the Health FSA. If your leave was less than 120 days and you return in the same plan year, you may enroll for the rest of the plan year. For the Health FSA, your annual contribution must be the same as before you went on leave. For DepCare, your monthly contribution must be the same. If your leave was 120 days or longer or you return in a new plan year, you may choose a new annual contribution.

For TIP, unless you choose not to participate during your PIE, your participation will restart automatically when you return to pay status.

AUTOMOBILE AND HOMEOWNER/RENTER’S INSURANCE
If you continued coverage, you can restart payroll deductions when you go back on pay status. If you didn’t, you can re-enroll any time by calling the insurance company directly.

VACATION AND SICK LEAVE
Once you start receiving paychecks again, you’ll begin accruing vacation and sick leave. For additional details, see the personnel policy or collective bargaining agreement that applies to you.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE
Your coverage resumes automatically when you return to pay status.

Check your pay stub
Once you get your first pay stub after returning to work, check it over to make sure that you’re enrolled in the benefits you chose. If questions or problems crop up, contact your local Benefits or Payroll Office right away.
If You Don’t Return to UC Employment

If you end employment, most of what you need to know, and do, is covered in the Termination of Employment Fact Sheet at ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/forms/pdf/termination-of-employment.pdf. You can ask your local Benefits or Human Resources Office for more information about continuing group coverage.

If you have a service credit buyback in progress and have completed 12 or more monthly payments, you may make a lump sum payment within 60 days after your separation from UC employment to complete the buyback purchase.

For California Unemployment Insurance, your coverage stops the last day you are actively at work. Depending on your circumstances, you may or may not be eligible for unemployment insurance benefits. Contact your local office of the California State Employment Development Department. If you work outside California, contact the state agency for your location.

If you decide to retire while on leave, be sure to talk to a retirement counselor before you elect to retire: If you’re eligible for, and want to continue your medical, dental, vision and/or legal coverage as a retiree, you must retire within 120 days of your separation from UC. For additional information, please review the Retirement Handbook, which is available on ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu. Or contact the UC Retirement Administration Service Center at 800-888-8267.

For more information, employees should contact their Human Resources Office and retirees should call the Retirement Administration Service Center (800-888-8267).

The Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 (COBRA) provides for continued coverage for a certain period of time at applicable monthly COBRA rates if you, your spouse, or your dependents lose group medical, dental, or vision coverage because you terminate employment (for reasons other than gross misconduct); your work hours are reduced below the eligible status for these benefits; you die, divorce, or are legally separated; or a child ceases to be an eligible dependent. Note: The continuation period is calculated from the earliest of these qualifying events and runs concurrently with any other UC options for continued coverage. See your Benefits Representative for more information.
