

ARTICLE 29
WAGES

GENERAL RANGE ADJUSTMENTS

A. Academic Year 2014-2015

The University shall increase the wage ranges/rates for all ASE titles by 5.0%. Implementation of the prospective increase shall coincide with the first full pay period in the Fall term commencing with October 1st for monthly paid employees and the first pay period commencing after the October 1 for bi-weekly paid employees.

B. Academic Year 2015-2016

The University shall increase the wage ranges/rates for all ASE titles by 4.0%. Implementation of the prospective increase shall coincide with the first full pay period in the Fall term commencing with October 1st for monthly paid employees and the first pay period commencing after the October 1 for bi-weekly paid employees.

C. Academic Year 2016-2017

The University shall increase the wage ranges/rates for all ASE titles by 4.0%. Implementation of the prospective increase shall coincide with the first full pay period in the Fall term commencing with October 1st for monthly paid employees and the first pay period commencing after the October 1 for bi-weekly paid employees.

D. Academic Year 2017-2018

The University shall increase the wage ranges/rates for all ASE titles by 3.0%. Implementation of the prospective increase shall coincide with the first full pay period in the Fall term commencing with October 1st for monthly paid employees and the first pay period commencing after the October 1 for bi-weekly paid employees.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

The actual salary ranges/rates following application of any range adjustments applied pursuant to this Article may vary slightly due to rounding.

UCLA FRESHMAN/TRANSFER SUMMER PROGRAM (F/TSP)

At UCLA, tutors in the F/TSP program will be paid a minimum of $4392 for the entire six-week program with a workload not to exceed 240 hours and will not be paid on an hourly basis as described in Article 24.A.3 and 24.F.3. This minimum does not include required training prior to the start of the program, which will be compensated on an hourly basis.