

Choices are good.

As two newly-hired UC employees, Kris and Micah have a choice of two retirement plan options — Pension Choice, a traditional pension and Savings Choice, a 401(k)-style plan. Kris wants a plan that can travel with her if she takes another job within the next few years, while Micah hopes to work for UC for a while and likes the idea of predictable retirement income that a traditional pension offers. Follow their hypothetical careers to see what each option looks like over the course of 15 years.
